A female preacher has been holding forth in a revivalist way at the Arlington House lecture and ball room, lately. We hear she is an Adventist. Whether a Millerite or not we are not informed. Probably not, inasmuch as the world has lasted about thirty-four years since Miller's predicted millennium.

State Printer Hill has returned from San Francisco.

An Evening Trumpet Note.

There was the sound of martial music upon the air, last night. It was the Carson Band blowing sonorous brass. As the wailing notes of the sax-horn were borne upon the swift-moving twilight wind, and as the deep tones of the ophicleide struck upon the listening ear, there came an awakening as of the march of eager multitudes and the gathering of hot clansmen moving to the edge of a great and momentous contest. There came with the measured drum-beat and the wild shriek of trumpet and bugle—a recollection of blood stirring voice tones and the rousing vehemence of partisan oratory. And with this stilted music, coming in strange, familiar gusts upon the ear we thought of the trustful heart of Black Republicanism, as it warmed and swelled and palpitated when we used to gather about the front chairs of the auditorium or lean up, fondly and faithfully and surreptitiously, against the flats and wings and tormentors of Moore & Parker's Theater, while eloquent lips and some lips which were not so seductively eloquent, poured out for the satisfying of our sharp-set political appetite the abominations of sinful little Sammy Tilden and the patriotic beautifolness of the immaculate Rutherford! Do we grow a little? Is our heart filled with the acidulated milk of betrayed human trustfulness? Do we regret an enthusiasm wasted and a confidence misplaced? God forbid! But we can look back, even while the notes of that preambulating band find remindingly upon the ear and not repine over the tender grace of a day that is dead which will never come back to resuscitate a faith that is not as robust as it used to be in a younger and tenderer, if not a purer, period of the Republic. Oh, Rutherford! how your painfully respectable name seems to stream out into the vast wastes of the Great Basin, borne along by the inexorable night-breeze, borrowing from the passing bugle-note a mockery of all true melody, a thin and vaporous counterfeit of Raromon, diluted and adulterated and made weak and rapid and stale and unprofitable as a mumble and a servile plagiarism of "My Policy" and the piping echo of John Morrissey's ticket and Sam Tilden's catch penny platform!

Rev. G. B. ALLEN, our readers know, is doing duty at Petaluma. A late edition of the Weekly Courier of that place informs us concerning some recent services there, as follows: "At the Episcopal Church the usual Easter services were conducted by the Rev. G. B. Allen, the rector. The church was profusely and tastefully decorated with wreaths, crosses, garlands and festoons of lilies, roses and other flowers mingled with evergreens, presenting a most beautiful and grateful sight to the large audience. The music was excellent and appropriate, and the sermon by the rector well-timed, sensible and practical. In the evening the church was full to overflowing, and the exercises, consisting of offerings of money and flowers in bouquets and emblems by the different classes, interspersed with singing and recitations, were delightfully interesting. And we doubt whether there has ever been any service in St. John's Church more pleasing to the audience, or more acceptable to Him who said 'suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not,' than the services of that Easter evening."

THE BONANZA TAX SUITS.—The Enterprise informs us that Sheriff Kelly has served the summonses in the cases of the State vs. the Con. Virginia and California Mining Companies for the quarter ending December 31, 1916. The suits are brought to recover the following amounts: Of the California Mining Company, $60,571.40; of the Con. Virginia Mining Company, $51,806.31. Total, $112,377.71. This is the amount of the tax and percentages on 44,755 tons of California ore and 30,167 tons of Con. Virginia ore.

WILL BE SUE.—City Attorney Coffin is on the war path against the delinquents with blood in his eye and vengeance in his aspect. He will bring down the majesty of the law in all its pulverizing force upon the heads of all offenders, without regard to race, color or previous condition of servitude. Time is up to-morrow. Let those who would save themselves costs and pains and penalties seek out the stern minister of municipal justice and stay his hand with a receipt for license money duly paid.

DEDICATION BALL.—We acknowledge with thanks, the receipt of a complimentary ticket from Mr. J. H. Borland to the dedication ball to be given at Reno on the night of the 26th by the Truckee Lodge of Odd Fellows. There will be special trains running for the accommodation of those desiring to participate.

Colds are very prevalent these days. Something more brilliant might be observed by way of filling up an awkward gap in the dullness of the local man's contact with his readers, but the substantial intrinsic worth of the statement lies in its unshakable truth.

Some racing, of a rather leisurely variety between a clay-bank and a pinto at the park track yesterday afternoon caused a temporary ripple of excitement upon the otherwise calm and untroubled ocean of our monotony, yesterday afternoon. We believe both won. At all events they tried to.

COMPLIMENTARY.—We are under obligations to Mr. J. M. L. Walton for complimentary tickets to Mr. Thomas O'Connor's benefit at the skating rink.

A DEF O' BITTERNESS.

(A leaf from an unpublished volume of poems by Vandyke Brown.)
When the windy air shakes the apple-tree's boughs
And with rapid gleams seems to toss 'em,
The difference is plain as a teatilla's nose
Between a tree's blow and its blossom.

The case of Harrington, the murderer, on appeal to the Supreme Court, will be argued before that body on the 25th. The Enterprise says he is now closely imprisoned and heavily ironed. He has quite recovered from his wounds.

The wind which came down from your bank of Pogenip last evening out like a whip lash. Painfully March-like, this weather, and lamentably discouraging to young buds and tender Spring flowers.

CONTRACT TO LET.—The City Fathers would build a cistern. The attention of contractors is called to their advertisement in another column.

TELEGRAPHIC.

Washington, April 13.—The stories that Blaine and others are organizing an opposition to the President's Southern policy are largely sensational and unauthorized. Martin I. Townsend flatly denies that he is preparing a letter of such character.

The Secretary of the Treasury has decided, in response to a question submitted to him by the Commissioner-General of the Land-office, that silver coin tendered in payment for Government lands cannot be received in any one payment to a greater amount than $5.

John G. Gerfer of Nebraska has been appointed Secretary of Arizona, and J. B. Boreman, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of Utah.

Senator Bayard, with Secretary Everts, to-day called upon the President. Mr. Edward Thornton will visit England about the middle of May and be absent several months. The trip is merely of a domestic character. His recent visit to Canada was for the purpose only of acting as an umpire in the settlement of the Ontario boundary and had no reference to the fishery question, as reported.

London, April 14.—A Standard dispatch from Constantinople reports that Russia is bringing her reserves in Asia to the Turkish frontier. It is stated that Germany does not wish to see the neutrality of Roumania violated, and consequently the principal Russian attack will be on the Asiatic side.

A Standard's Vienna correspondent says Russian officers from Persia report that 40,000 Persian troops are concentrated near the Turkish frontiers. The Ozar will start on the 24th instant for the vicinity of the army. A manifesto will be issued on Tuesday. The superior officers of the Southern army have been summoned before the Grand Council of War in St. Petersburg to be heard respecting preparations for marching a quarter of a million men across the Pruth next week. The army has already advanced to but has not passed the frontier.

A Paris correspondent of the Standard says Austria has made fresh proposals which may delay the actual outbreak of hostilities for a week, but the issue is known beforehand.

London, April 14.—A dispatch to the Daily News from St. Petersburg says: War will not be declared immediately, as some preliminary steps must be taken. Russia will probably address a note to the Powers explaining the situation; she will next recall her Embassy from Constantinople and all her Consuls in the Ottoman Empire; the Ozar will then go back to Kischinoff, at which place the declaration of war may be dated.

London, April 14.—A Times dispatch from Cettina says the Turkish army has entered the country of Miridites. A movement of the Turks is also expected toward Gouzanke.

Providence, R. I., April 13.—Samuel Foster & Co., S. & W. Foster, Foster, Fisher & Co., and other individuals comprising these firms, made an assignment this evening for the benefit of their creditors. Indebtedness as well as assets very large. Heavy losses in cotton are the immediate cause of the failure.

Cincinnati, April 13.—A Commercial special reports the arrest of the negro Booker, at London, Ohio, and the recovery of the boy Havens, taken by him, from the neighborhood of Columbus, some days ago.

New York, April 13.—The suit of the Aldine Company vs. the Fire Insurance Company has been decided in favor of the former company for the full amount claimed, without interest.

A Petroleum Exchange has been organized here.

Havana, via Key West, April 13.—General Martinez Campos has commenced a forward movement into the Central Department. He says that the Cinco Villas are sufficiently pacified to allow his forward movement, leaving part of the troops behind for any emergency.

There has been a splendid tobacco crop.

A military camp and settlement called Dominguez, on the Trocha line, caught fire and was entirely destroyed. It contained military provisions, warehouses, barracks for wounded men, bakeries, a telegraph station and cavalry stables. The loss is said to be $2,000,000.

A large provision train is reported captured by Maximo Gomez, in the neighborhood of Remedios. Gold in Havana is rising, caused partly by speculation and partly by the uneasy feeling occasioned by the Banco San Jose catastrophe. The bank has not resumed payment and is considered broken. It made heavy advances to planters, who can not meet their obligations because of the alleged large deficiency in the sugar crop.
